

Claiming Guidance

Teachers in Alternative Schools

Over the last several months, the Governor's Alternative Education Advisory Group, in collaboration with TEAM Evaluation, has been working to develop guidance around suggested best practices in claiming for alternative educators. The advisory group's recommended guidance is as follows:

- In order for an alternative educator to claim students, the students should have spent 30 percent of their year (about 60 days continuous instructional availability) in an alternative school.